DR. HENRY A. DIXON
President, Weber College

Our Weber College home-coming this season has reason to be a more joyous one than for a good many years past. Last week the State Board of Examiners granted Weber over one million dollars for new buildings on our beautiful campus site. This sum should construct 80,000 square feet of new classrooms, a heating plant, and will insure the completion of the new stadium.

Our next home-coming game will be played in the new stadium.

On behalf of the college faculty and personnel I wish to take this opportunity to welcome our alumni back for our 1950 home-coming.

Your support in the past and continued support for Weber in the future will be a determining factor in charting the course for the old school. With a new campus and the prospects for a four-year college looking brighter than at any time in our previous history we will meet the future with hope and determination.

H. A. DIXON

Dear Friends of Weber:

You share with me, I trust, the feeling of exultation over the events which have transpired during the past week. Financial resources which will soon make our cherished dream of a greater Weber a reality have been placed at our disposal. We have taken Shakespear's advice when he said: "See first that the design is wise and just; that ascertained, pursue it resolutely; do not for one repulse forego the purpose that you resolve to effect.

You share with me also, I trust, the feeling of gratitude to our beloved President Dixon and all those who worked so resolutely with him to accomplish this task. May we hereby thank the Governor of our great State of Utah and the other members of his official family for their part in recognising our need and using the resources at their command to do something concrete about it.

Home-coming this year should be most joyous because we can truly feel that our beloved old "Home" is being replaced by a new and better "Home."

Continued Success to All of You,
George F. Larkin

Pictured above is the historic Moench Building on the Weber campus, named after Weber's first president, Louis Moench. Erected in 1890, it is one of the oldest buildings in Utah.

In order to raise enough funds to build the building and start a schooling program in the early days, some of the prominent citizens of Ogden of that era mortgaged their homes to finance construction of the building. It is still in use and houses the college auditorium, life science and humanities departments of the college.

Alumni--join in tonight yell and sing for the home school

PURPLE AND WHITE

An ensign of truth and right
The flag I love, it waves above.
I love it with all my might

A king I'll be, if true to thee
And dare to do the right.

O I'll be true to thee O

Next Year A New Stadium For Our 1951 Home-coming

Reed K. Swenson, director of athletics at Weber College, shows President H. A. Dixon where Ogden football fans will sit next year to watch the "Wildcats" in action.

Pictured above is the new Weber College football field which is now under construction. Plans are to plant the sod this fall and install the bleachers next spring. The new stadium will be one of the most beautiful fields in the state.

Anxious to do her part to help the Clark College football team, Clark co-ed Betty Smith showed up at practice the other day with her version of the "T" formation. Although Betty seems to have gotten mixed up a little, Clark gridders Ed Hauzenberger, Wimpy Fletcher and Rod Anderson evidently approved of her "Tea" formation.

DON RIPPLINGER
Weber Student Prexy

Dear Alumni:

We realize, of course, that your years at Weber was the best. The real athletes got sweaters, people studied for grades, the victory bell rang more often, "Purple and White" was sung more lustily, and the Flaming "W" hike was a real hike, but we're all more concerned with the future now that with the past. One million, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have made Weber's future something of a realization.

Weber's traditions are great and we are justly proud of them. We have you to thank for establishing and upholding these traditions and we are doing our utmost to keep the spirit and ideals of Weber on the high standards that have been set by you.

On behalf of the students of W. C. we welcome you back on the campus.

Sincerely,
Don Ripplinger

CLARK COLLEGE "PENGUINS" vs WEBER
COLLEGE "WILDCATS" PROSPECTUS . . .

The Clark College "Penguins" under the tutelage of Head Coach "Dutch" Shields have given a good account of themselves this season. The Washington aggregation have rolled up 79 offensive points this season and have held their opposition to 47. They have won four encounters and dropped one. They rolled over Gray's Harbor 13-2, smashed Yakima 31-6, humbled Vanport 13-6, and went through Wenatchee on rails 22-14. Their lone defeat came last week at the hands of Everett Junior College on a rain-soaked field. Everett put the skids under the Clark "T" formation by employing a single wing with a score of 19-0. Clark is currently a top contender for the Washington State Conference Championship.

Head Coach "Dutch" Shields is hoping for good weather in Ogden for he claims his tricky and wide open type of "T" play would stand a good chance of bogging down in another rain storm. He advises that one of his best linemen is Keslick, No. 83, and he expects him to play havoc with Weber plays. Shining in the backfield for Clark this evening will be Dean, No. 50, at left half and Kilwein, No. 70, at fullback, both of whom spark the "Penguins" offense.

The Weber team has no shoddy record either, having suffered defeats only at the hands of 36-game undefeated Boise and the nation's best J. C. football team from Compton College. Weber has pawed over Carbon College, Four-year Rick's College, Oregon Tech, and Pasadena's John Muir College. The "Wildcats" have no intention of dropping their home-coming tilt and only some excellent playing from the Washington squad will deprive them of the laurels tonight.

HEAD COACH MARSHALL "DUTCH" SHIELDS

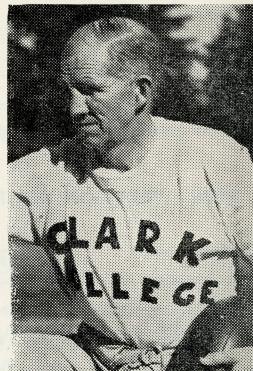

Dutch Shields is starting his second year as head coach of Clark College after guiding the Penguin eleven to their best season in history last year, his freshman year at Clark. Shields took over when Penguin grid fortunes were at low ebb and has brought the Clark eleven along to the point where they must be rated a serious contender for the conference title this year.

"Dutch" has always had an active interest in the game, dating back to his high school days when he got his first taste of organized football. He played both line and backfield in his prep days at Stevenson, Washington; Eugene, Oregon; and Lincoln of Portland. He was graduated from the latter school.

After graduating from high school, Shields enrolled at the University of Oregon, where he played varsity guard and earned a B. S. degree. One feature of a Shields-coached team is that the guards are always good, which may be traced to his playing days at Oregon where he learned the tricks of the trade. After securing a Master's degree at Columbia University and playing a couple of years of professional football, Shields took up the coaching end of the game, going to Ashland, Oregon, where he served as assistant at Southern Oregon College of Education.

"Dutch" came to Vancouver High School in 1935, and it was there that he earned his greatest fame. His Trapper elevens were always powers in Washington prep circles, and his teams in 1940 and '41 were the only unbeaten teams in VHS history. Shields-coached teams at VHS compiled a record of 76 wins, 32 losses, and 14 ties.

Shields' first Penguin eleven copped fourth place in the conference with a 4-4 record. He brought the Clark eleven along late in the season to win their last three conference games.
